NOVA SCOTIA SENIOR CITIZENS' COMMISSION

The Nova Scotia Senior Citizens' Commission was established under the Senior Citizens' Social Services Act, Chapter 16 of the Statutes of Nova Scotia, 1972. It consists of 17 members, appointed by the Executive Council, from various regions of the province and possesses a cross-section of experience in business, labour, the church, community organizations, medicine, education and recreation.

The Nova Scotia Senior Citizens' Commission was appointed to act in an advisory capacity to the Minister of Community Services to promote understanding and support in respect to all matters relating to aging. It is to facilitate and encourage joint planning and coordination of effort among community agencies and government departments. It is to encourage and assist in the gathering of information leading to action on the views and concerns of our senior citizens.

Functions and Powers of the Commission:

(a) to conduct, direct and promote fact finding studies and research related to aging;

(b) to seek out and encourage persons interested in providing voluntary services to citizen groups concerned with aging;

(c) to promote new activities and social services for senior citizens through voluntary agencies and through all levels of government as may be deemed appropriate;

(d) to review existing legislation and government programs and make recommendations as to how these may be improved to provide more adequate services for senior citizens; and

(e) to perform any duties assigned to the Commission by the governor in Council or the Minister of Community Services.

Implementation of Functions:

In order to accomplish the purpose of this Act and to implement the functions of the Commission, the Minister may

(a) make grants from departmental appropriations for the encouragement of citizen groups and voluntary organizations concerned with the problem of aging and in furthering the objectives of this Act;

(b) encourage organizations, institutions, the media and other interested groups in the dissemination of information respecting geriatrics and the problems of aging; and

(c) enter into agreement with the municipal levels of government, where appropriate, for the establishment, administration and operation of programs designed to assist senior citizens and voluntary groups interested in working with and providing services for senior citizens.

The Commission is authorized and empowered to solicit funds and to accept grants, gifts or bequests, and to administer them for the purposes of the Commission and, where any such grant, gift or bequest is upon terms, conditions or trusts prescribed by the grantor, donor or testator, the Commission may execute any instrument required or necessary for carrying into effect those terms, conditions or trusts and, upon acceptance of the grant, gift or bequest, shall be bound by such terms, conditions, trusts and instruments, and shall have power and be found to fulfil and observe them.

The Commission may, with the approval of the Governor in Council, acquire by purchase, lease or otherwise, any land and buildings and any equipment, instruments, appliances and other materials and things as are necessary or advisable to carry out the purposes of this Act, and such land, buildings, equipment, instruments, appliances and other material and things, when so acquired, shall be the property of the Crown in the right of the Province of Nova Scotia.

The Commission is empowered to cooperate with both the Nova Scotia and Canadian Associations on Gerontology and such other national and international organizations as may be concerned with the provision of social services to senior citizens.

On the recommendation of the Minister, the Governor-in-Council may appoint a panel of senior citizens to be called the Program Consultant Panel to assist the Commission and the Minister in all matters relating to the provision of social services on behalf of senior citizens.

The Commission is anxious to reach out to all senior citizens' clubs and groups, to act as a resource center, to circulate information to all groups within the province and to promote exchange of information and communication between all groups.

The Nova Scotia Departments of Health, Recreation and Education and officials of New Horizons, which is the federal government's creative program for senior citizens, have indicated that they are anxious to work closely with the Commission.
